Mesa Tactical Approaches 40,000 SureShell™ Shotshell Carriers Sold.

January 3, 2012, Costa Mesa CA – Mesa Tactical, provider of high quality tactical accessories and gear to law enforcement, the military and civilian shooters, has recently announced total sales of its extremely popular SureShell shotshell carrier approaching 40,000 units. More importantly, overall sales of SureShell carriers have doubled over the past two years.

“The overwhelming acceptance and adoption of the SureShell shotshell carrier is a testament to its superior design, construction and unmatched versatility,” said Mitch Barrie, President of Mesa Tactical, “the SureShell carrier is our best selling accessory and we will definitely continue offering new innovative models for more platforms in the future.”

Introduced in 2005, SureShell shotshell carriers have become an industry standard and the preferred choice of numerous federal, state, and municipal law enforcement agencies due to its hard anodized aircraft aluminum construction and fail-safe Santoprene elastomer shell retention system. SureShell carriers work well in virtually all climates and environments, and are proven to withstand the daily use and abuse to which arsenal weapons are commonly subjected. Agencies ranging from Los Angeles and Orange County (Florida) Sheriff’s Offices to the Pennsylvania State Police, US Customs and Border Protection, U.S. Department of the Interior and the Federal Bureau of Investigation place their trust and confidence in Mesa Tactical’s SureShell shotshell carriers.

The basic SureShell carrier yoke is machined in four-, six- and eight-shot versions, and then attached to any of a variety of metal brackets or mounts depending on the shotgun platform supported. SureShell carriers are available for the Remington 870, Remington semi-automatics,

Gear and accessories for law enforcement, military and personal defense.
